PROMISES FOR THE TITHER AND GIVER

Honor the LORD
with your wealth,
with the firstfruits
of all your crops,
then your barns will
be filled to overflowing, and your vats will brim over with new wine.

Introduction

God is a God of provision. From the plunder the Israelites left Egypt with to the New Testament teachings about giving, Scripture repeatedly connects obedience in giving with divine provision, blessing, and multiplication. This booklet gathers biblical promises, examples, and practical steps so tithers and givers can stand on God’s Word, steward what He entrusts to them, and expect His provision—spiritually and materially.

Part 1 — Key Biblical Examples of Divine Provision and Wealth Transfer

- Exodus 3:21–22 — God promised Moses that the Egyptians would give the Israelites possessions so they would not leave empty-handed.
- Exodus 12:35–36 — At the time of the Exodus the Israelites “plundered” the Egyptians: the LORD made the Egyptians favor them and give up silver, gold and clothing.
- Joseph in Egypt (Genesis 41) — God elevated Joseph to manage Egypt’s resources, which preserved and multiplied wealth for many.
- Elijah fed and strengthened by an angel (1 Kings 19:5–8) — example of angelic provision in times of need.

- The early Church shared and provided for one another (Acts 2:44–47; Acts 4:32–35) — communal generosity and provision.
- James 5:1–4 — a warning: riches gained by oppressing others will be judged; God is concerned with justice in wealth.

Part 2 — Foundational Scriptures Promising Provision to Tithers and Givers

1. Malachi 3:8–12 — The clearest Old Testament promise regarding tithes: God challenges those who “rob” Him to bring tithes and offerings and promises to “open the windows of heaven” and pour out a blessing until there is no more need.
2. Proverbs 3:9–10 — “Honor the LORD with your wealth... and your barns will be filled with plenty.”
3. Deuteronomy 8:18 — God gives the power to get wealth so we may remember Him.
4. Luke 6:38 — “Give, and it will be given to you... For with the measure you use, it will be measured back to you.”
5. 2 Corinthians 9:6–11 — The principles of sowing and reaping, cheerful giving, and God’s ability to make all grace abound so we can be generous.
6. Philippians 4:19 — “My God will supply every need of yours according to his riches in glory in Christ Jesus.”

7. Matthew 6:33 — Seek first God’s Kingdom and righteousness, and your needs will be added to you.

8. Psalm 112:3 — “Wealth and riches are in his house; and his righteousness endures forever.”

9. Proverbs 11:24–25 — Generosity leads to increase; the generous soul will be made rich.

10. Haggai 2:8 — “The silver is mine, and the gold is mine,” reminding us God is the source of all resources.

Part 3 — How Scripture Describes the Mechanism: Tithe, Give, and Receive

- Tithe (Malachi 3:8–12; Leviticus/Deuteronomy context): The tithe is an act of honoring God with the first portion. Scripture pairs faithful tithing with God’s promise to protect, provide, and bless.
- Cheerful, sacrificial giving (2 Corinthians 9:6–7): God values the heart. Giving with joy, not compulsion, aligns us with God’s economy of multiplication.
- Sowing and reaping (2 Corinthians 9:6; Galatians 6:7): Spiritual and material returns often follow what we sow in faith.
- Stewardship and obedience (Proverbs 3:9–10;

Matthew 25 parables): Wealth is entrusted to us; faithful stewardship invites increased responsibility and blessing.

- Divine favor and intervention (Exodus, Joseph): God can arrange circumstances—opening doors, creating opportunities, or causing resources to flow by favor.

Part 4 — The Angel of Prosperity? Biblical Perspective on Angels and Provision

Scripture speaks of angels acting on God’s orders (e.g., delivering, protecting, instructing, or bringing provision). In Exodus the LORD worked sovereignly to give the Israelites favor with the Egyptians; whether described as an “angel” or God’s direct providence, the truth is God moves supernaturally to fulfill His purposes. Pray and trust God for supernatural provision, while also exercising faith, wisdom, and active stewardship.

Part 5 — Practical Steps for the Tither and Giver

1. Begin/maintain the tithe: Set aside your first tenth or start with faithful, increasing giving.
2. Give cheerfully and sacrificially: Cultivate a joyful heart in giving.

3. Pray and ask for wisdom: Ask God how and where to give, and ask for blessing on your seeds.
4. Work diligently and manage finances: God's promises are partnered with personal responsibility (plan, budget, save, invest wisely).
5. Practice generosity beyond the tithe: Offerings, alms, and acts of mercy expand God's flow.
6. Keep an eternal perspective: Blessings often serve kingdom purposes; giving aligns you with God's mission.
7. Test God's Word in faithful obedience: Malachi's invitation challenges us to trust God with our tithes.

Part 6 — Sample Declarations and Prayers
(use in personal devotion)

Declaration: "I honor the Lord with my firstfruits. I bring my tithes and offerings, and I trust God to open the windows of heaven and pour out blessing. I am a cheerful and wise steward. God's provision is manifest in my life."

Prayer: "Father, thank You that You are my provider. Help me walk in faith and obedience. Teach me to give cheerfully. Open doors of favor and multiply what I bring to Your work. Provide for my needs and enable me to be a blessing to others. In Jesus' name, amen."

Part 7 — Cautions and Clarifications

- Giving is not a magic formula. Scripture doesn't promise material riches to every giver in the same way; many faithful givers live modestly or suffer trials. God's provision may be material or spiritual; He is always for His people.
- God opposes unjust gain. James 5:1–4 warns that wealth obtained by oppression will be judged. True prosperity in God's sight is tied to justice and righteousness.
- Discernment against prosperity-only messages: Test teachings by Scripture. Promises of instant riches without repentance, stewardship, or work should be weighed biblically.

Part 8 — Prophetic Hope for Personal and National Provision

As believers we may pray for national prosperity and for God to bless the work of leaders who seek righteousness. Declarations like “money cometh” express faith, but they must be accompanied by obedience, stewardship, and humility. Whether you sense an immediate financial breakthrough (“it's about to hit electronically”) or a season of gradual increase, anchor your hope in the Lord's timing and purpose.

The largest intergenerational wealth transfer in history is currently underway, with an estimated $84 trillion to $124 trillion in assets projected to pass from baby boomers and the silent generation to their heirs and charity by 2045–2048. This shift is expected to heavily impact investment trends as Millennials and Gen X inherit significant assets.

- Scale: Estimates from Cerulli Associates suggest up to $124 trillion will change hands by 2048, with about $100 trillion flowing to younger generations.
- Timing: The transfer is happening now and will peak over the next 20 years as baby boomers age.
- Beneficiaries: Gen X and Millennials are the primary beneficiaries, with a notable portion passing to women.
- Impact: This massive shift may lead to changes in investment strategies, as younger generations often favor different assets, including sustainable or ESG-focused investments.
- Preparation Gap: Many beneficiaries are not fully prepared, with about 72% of surveyed Americans feeling unconfident in managing a major financial windfall.

Conclusion — Your Part and God’s Promise

God invites tithers and givers into His economy. The Bible gives clear promises: when we honor Him with our resources, He promises provision, multiplication, favor, and the ability to be a conduit of blessing. Walk in obedience, apply wisdom, give cheerfully, and trust God—He is faithful to fulfill His word.
